Profile Summary

I am an AI/ML Engineer with a strong foundation in computer science and a deep interest in building intelligent systems that solve real-world problems. With hands-on experience in developing machine learning models for credit scoring, fraud detection, and medical data analysis, I've worked on end-to-end pipelines—from data preprocessing and model training to deployment using Flask and Docker.

Currently contributing at Kifiya Financial Technology, I'm part of a team developing innovative AI solutions, including LLM-integrated Agentic systems and Retrieval-Augmented Generation pipelines. My toolkit includes Python, Scikit-Learn, SQL, and data visualization tools, and I'm continually exploring new methods to improve the scalability, explainability, and impact of AI systems.
